

Definition

Info Cubic's Professional License verification checks that the applicant has a valid license as claimed. Common licenses verified are CPA, RN, MD, state bar, etc.

Recommended for

Any position where it is important to verify your applicant's qualifications based on provided information related to their professional license (i.e., attorneys, medical practitioners, real estate agents, accountants, etc.)

Sources

A Professional License is verified with the state or federal agency that issued the license. While some agency records are available online, many others are only available through telephone, fax, email or mailed requests.

Turn Around Time

6 – 72 hours

Information Required

- Applicant Information – Name and Date of Birth
- License number, license type and issuing agency information

Results Guidelines

When available, license number, date of issuance and expiration are provided along with any disciplinary action on file. Agencies that issue professional licenses do not always have access to a complete history of restrictions or violations. Most often, the Professional License Verification simply provides the current status of the license claimed. If the applicant does not provide complete name, license number, license type and issuing agency information, it is often difficult or impossible to verify the license. Consultation with qualified legal counsel is recommended for all employment law matters.

*Please note additional third party fees may apply professional license verifications.
