Since 9/11, background checks in the aviation industry have evolved rapidly since they are so important in protecting millions of airline passengers. The aviation industry is heavily regulated by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), US Department of Transportation (DOT), and the Transportation Safety Administration (TSA), with each one having different regulations for background screening. Info Cubic has created aviation screening products to help you stay compliant with all federal regulations.

Sources
This search is conducted through the pilot candidate’s previous employer(s) for which the candidate was employed as a pilot within the past 5 years

Turn Around Time
By Law, previous employers are required to furnish records that have been requested no later than 30 days after receiving the request.

Information Required
- Name
- Social Security Number
- Date of Birth
- A separate PRIA 8060-11, 8060-11A and 8060-12 form are required to be completed for each previous employer and must be provided at the time the order is placed.

Results Guidelines
You should receive from the previous 5 years:
- Records pertaining to the individual, including drug and alcohol, if applicable.
- Records pertaining to the individual’s professional performance as a pilot.
- Records pertaining to the individual’s employment history with that company.
- Disciplinary Records pertaining to the individual’s performance as a pilot.
